

This year celebrates the Centenary of the Bradford Women's Humanity League's
'Great Demonstration' of 9th September 1917

3,000 people marched from Westgate in Bradford across town in protest against the slaughter of their menfolk in World War One. It was one of many actions by the Bradford Women's Humanity League during WW1.

Hear the story of this in a talk and visual presentation by Eve Haskins and Peter Nias on Thursday 7th September at The Peace Museum, Piece Hall Yard, Bradford, BD1 1PJ (opposite Waterstones bookshop) from 5.30pm

Free entry Light refreshments

RSVP to The Peace Museum info@peacemuseum.org.uk or phone 01274-780241
Please note there are some 60 stairs to the venue and no lift unfortunately.