Visits and Tours Information

Who we are

The Peace Museum explores the history and the often untold stories of peace, peacemakers, social reform and peace movements. It occupies three small galleries in one of Bradford's many fine Victorian buildings. It is unique in that it is the only accredited museum of its kind in the UK.

Current permanent exhibitions include 'Protest In Our Time'; our Conscientious Objection gallery; 'Common Ground, Uncommon Women'; and the Bradford Room. The collection of over 7,000 objects covers a wide range of topics from pacifism and resistance, campaigning, anti-nuclear protests, encompassing the histories of various movements, religious groups and individuals who have campaigned tirelessly for peace.

General Museum Visit and Guided Tours

The museum is open to the public Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 10am until 4pm. All 'walk ins' are welcome. For group visits, if prior notice is given, staff can be on hand to provide an introduction and guidance through the exhibitions if requested.

Group visits can also be arranged by prior arrangement throughout the week. These visits can involve a general tour of the galleries and objects of interest, or can be more specific relating to a pre-determined theme of topic.

Bradford Routes to Peace Heritage Trail

The Routes to Peace Heritage Trail takes you on a walking tour of places of interest within Bradford city centre and the surrounding area. Approximately 2.5 miles long, taking around 90 minutes to complete, the trail explores areas of interest as well as Bradford's history and its longstanding affinity with peace. The accompanying printed guide is available at the Peace Museum free of charge. The trail may be of interest to walking groups or local history groups. A downloadable copy of the trail guidebook is also available on our website.
